- Sophim uses upcycled by-products from the food industry as its raw material : olive oil by products
- The olive oil production and consumption is rising : security of supply ensured

A SUSTAINABLE RESSOURCE

- In Europe, the Mediterranean basin is well-known for its traditionnal olive-crops. It is a usual olive-tree growing area, with low tree density, respecting the natural ressources available
- Olives coming from Spain are harvested traditionally, in respect for the local wildlife
- The mechanization for the olives harvest is limited, in order to preserve the fruit quality
- Olive-trees are known for their carbon-sink effect

EUROPEAN PREMIUM SOURCING

SHORTEN SUPPLY CHAIN

- European sourcing : local suppliers near our Iberia (Spain) plant, most closely to the olive crops
- A squalene concentrated raw material sent from our Spain plant to our French plant : lowered carbon footprint for our raw material
- A fully integrated process : from purchasing the raw material to producing the ingredient

SUPPLIER AND RAW MATERIAL QUALITY

- Historical suppliers since 1996 :
 - Expert knowledge of our partners
 - Expert knowledge of the raw material market
 - Trustworthy relationship
- European quality : European production standards
 - Ensure high quality production
 - Ensure good working conditions
